

Eversource Recognized for Sixth Straight Year Among America's Most JUST Companies by JUST Capital and CNBC

February 3, 2025

Energy company ranked #1 utility and 7th overall on the JUST 100, which celebrates positive corporate business practices

HARTFORD, Conn. and BOSTON, Mass. (February 3, 2025) – As a testament to its unyielding commitment to customers, communities, employees and the environment, Eversource Energy (NYSE:ES) is being celebrated as a national leader for corporate responsibility through its recognition on this year's JUST 100 list as part of its 2025 rankings of America's Most JUST Companies, according to JUST Capital and CNBC. In its sixth straight appearance in the top 100 performers, the energy company ranked as the number one utility and 7th overall. Leading companies are recognized for their performance on top priority issues such as: paying fair, living wages; supporting worker well-being; career advancement, training, and work life balance; communicating transparently; strengthening communities; ethical leadership; and treating customers fairly.

"From our commitment to sustainability throughout our operations to the dedicated work of our employees who go above and beyond to serve their communities, corporate responsibility is at the heart of our everyday mission to deliver safe, reliable energy to our customers," said Eversource Chairman, President and CEO Joe Nolan. "Receiving this distinguished national recognition for the sixth year in a row – and to be honored as the #1 utility on the list – is another gratifying confirmation of how responsible business practices that benefit our employees, our customers and our communities are cornerstones of our company culture, and I'm proud of how we all come together at Eversource to deliver on our core values and drive positive change across the states we serve."

About JUST Capital

The mission of JUST Capital, an independent nonprofit, is to demonstrate how just business – defined by the priorities of the public – is better business. Our goal is to help companies create value for all their stakeholders – their workers, customers, communities, the environment, and shareholders – by focusing on the issues that matter most to Americans. To date, we've polled more than 182,000 Americans on the issues they believe companies should prioritize when it comes to just business behavior, and those insights guide our work. We believe that business and markets can and must be a force for the greater good and that by shifting the resources of the $21.6 trillion private sector, we can drive competition to build a better future for all. Our research, rankings, indexes, initiatives, and new offerings like the JUST Jobs Scorecard help track, analyze, incentivize, and scale corporate stakeholder performance. JUST Capital publishes the annual list of America's Most JUST Companies, the JUST 100, in partnership with CNBC. To learn more, visit: www.JUSTCapital.com.
